

The Institute of European, Russian and Eurasian Studies (EURUS) offers a comprehensive, interdisciplinary approach to the study of Europe, Russia and Eurasia.

The Institute of European, Russian and Eurasian Studies (EURUS) offers its master's students unparalleled opportunities to do research with experts on Europe and European Integration, Central and Southeast Europe, Russia, the Caucasus and Central Asia. Renowned for its expertise, EURUS houses various research initiatives, including the Centre

The Erasmus Mundus International Master in Central and East European, Russian and Eurasian Studies aims to give students a thorough knowledge and understanding of historical and contemporary developments in the society, politics, economics and ...

Study EURUS (European Union- Russian Studies) at University of Tartu. Explore course details and what's involved. From start dates, entry requirements and more.

5 ???&#0183; The Institute's hallmarks are combining academic rigor with policy engagement, promoting interdisciplinary perspectives, and recognizing that Europe, Russia, and Eurasia cannot be understood in isolation from each other or from global trends.

The Institute of European, Russian, and Eurasian Studies (EURUS) is a premier academic unit at Carleton University. Our interdisciplinary focus provides for a unique learning experience, as undergraduate- and graduate-level courses cover all social science and humanities disciplines.

EURR 5001 [0.5 credit] Interdisciplinary Seminar in European, Russian and Eurasian Studies Current debates and methodological approaches within various academic disciplines relating to Europe, Russia, and Eurasia.

EURUS is pleased to offer exchange opportunities across Europe, Russia and Eurasia and the chance to complete the EU Study Tour. For stories from past and present students, please view our Student Experience Abroad page.

5 ???&#0183; EURUS Professor Jeff Sahadeo has published a policy brief entitled "Armenia's Delicate Balancing Act: (In)Security in the Caucasus" through the Eastern European and Transatlantic Network (EETN). The full policy brief can be found here. Summary: On December 4, Prime Minister Nicol Pashinyan claimed that Armenia now considers itself outside of the ...

EURUS offers a co-op option for our MA students, presenting an invaluable way to gain work experience, make local connections, and build vital skills for your future career.

Web: <https://www.ssn.com.pl>

