

Speech at the opening ceremony of solar power generation

How is the government accelerating the deployment of rooftop solar energy solutions?

The Government has taken the lead in accelerating the deployment of rooftop solar energy solutions. We are constantly exploring new and innovative ways to install solar panels in the limited spaces available to us. This includes tapping on vacant land as well as open water bodies.

Will a floating solar PV system power Singapore's water treatment plants?

5 In August this year, PUB, Singapore's National Water Agency and Sembcorp started constructing the floating solar photovoltaic (or PV) system on Tengeh Reservoir, which will be one of the world's largest. When completed, the energy generated will power all of PUB's local water treatment plants and offset 7 per cent of their annual energy needs.

Can Singapore achieve 2 gigawatt-peak of solar deployment by 2030?

Thanks to the combined efforts of Government and industry partners, Singapore has now surpassed 1 gigawatt-peak of solar deployment. This means that we are more than halfway towards achieving our target of 2 gigawatt-peak of solar deployment by 2030.

Will Solar Power overtake oil in 2023?

A recent study by Nature Communications found that solar power is set to dominate global electricity markets and may have already reached an irreversible tipping point. The International Energy Agency also expects investment in solar power to overtake oil for the first time in 2023 as clean energy spending outpaces fossil fuels spending.
